A Revolution within a Revolution:
Women of the Young Lords
Now through Friday, April 1

March is Women’s History Month! In celebration, this exhibit will be on display in Colston Hall [CO], 3rd and 5th floors; Meister Hall [ME], Learning Commons; Brown Center [BC], 1st Floor and North Hall and Library [NL], 2nd floor. The focus is on the women within the movement, political and social activists in New York City in the 1960s and 1970s who led the fierce grassroots struggle against gender inequality and sought justice in areas such as education, health care and housing. Presentation of this material is a partnership between the Department of History and Office of Academic Affairs with the scholars and curators of ¡Presente! The Young Lords, the acclaimed, city-wide exhibit at El Museo del Barrio, Bronx Museum of the Arts, and Loisaida, Inc.

Join us for “When the Sun Will Stop Casting Shadows”, an exhibition of works by artist duo Patricia Cazorla and Nancy Saleme. Cazorla and Saleme began working together in 2010 with a focus on immigration and child labor issues. The gallery is open Monday through Wednesday, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., Thursday, 12 - 4 p.m. and Friday, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. A reception and artist talk will take place in the gallery on Thursday, March 10, from 2 - 4 p.m.

Film: “Yemanja: Wisdom from the Heart of Brazil”
Thursday, March 10, 12 - 2 p.m., in Meister Hall [ME], Schwendler Auditorium

Narrated by author Alice Walker, the film explores the Afro-Brazilian spiritual tradition known as Candomble, a nature-based religion, thriving today in Bahia, Brazil. The story is told through the voices of elder women leaders, descendants of enslaved Africans forced to Brazil in the trans-Atlantic slave trade. Ultimately, the work touches on broader issues of women’s leadership, social justice, economic sustainability, racism, religious intolerance and the enduring power of faith and community. The film will be followed by a discussion with co-writer and co-director Donna C. Roberts.

Panel Discussion: Endometriosis
Thursday, March 10, 12 - 2 p.m., in Brown Center [BC], Room 311A

Join us for a panel discussion on endometriosis, a painful, chronic disease that affects at least 6.3 million women and girls in the U.S. All are welcome.

Film: “A Celluloid Closet”
Thursday, March 10, 12 - 1:30 p.m., in Colston Hall [CO], Room 203

Documentary directors Rob Epstein and Jeffrey Friedman examine the representation of homosexuality in the film industry itself in this absorbing study. Based on a 1981 book by Vito Russo and narrated by Lily Tomlin, the film states upfront that in one hundred years of cinema history, homosexuality has rarely been acknowledged, and only then for laughs, pity, or fear. OCD credit is available for this event. Presented by the Rainbow Alliance Club.

Domestic Violence Workshop
Thursday, March 10, 12 - 2 p.m., in Brown Center [BC], Room 211

Domestic violence is the leading cause of injury to women between the ages of 15 and 44 in the United States, more than car accidents, muggings, and rapes combined. Women of all cultures, races, occupations, income levels, and ages are battered – by husbands, boyfriends, lovers and partners. BCC Public Safety officer Sgt. Alexandra Torres will lead a conversation on domestic violence with Yvonne Erazo-Davila of the Office of Student Life and members of the Office of Personal Counseling.
