Exam Anxiety Support Week
Monday, May 11 through Friday, May 15, 12:30 - 1:45 p.m., in Loew Hall [LH], Room 200

Most students experience some level of anxiety during an exam. A little nervousness can actually help motivate us. However, when anxiety affects exam performance, it becomes a problem. The Office of Personal Counseling will host Pre-Final Exams Relaxation and Mindfulness workshops. Counselors will be available to offer tips that can help develop good study habits and strategies, manage time wisely and organize study materials. Pre-registration is required, so don’t delay. To register or for more information, call 718.289.5223. Good luck!

Samuel D. Ehrenpreis Memorial Lecture
Thursday, May 14, 2 - 3:30 p.m., in Gould Memorial Library [GM], Rotunda

The Department of History presents the 18th Annual Ehrenpreis Memorial Lecture, “Witness to History: From Fleeing the Holocaust to Helping Survivors”, with guest speaker George Wolf. Mr. Wolf fled the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia as a child in 1938. He and his family were forced to abandon their comfortable home for a life of exile, even as they struggled to save relatives and friends – many of whom subsequently perished in the Holocaust. Emigrating to the United States at age 19, George Wolf became a successful businessman. He is now the marketing director of The Blue Card, a Jewish charity that supports destitute Holocaust survivors. Drawing on his experience fleeing from the Nazis, he has a unique connection to the people the organization serves. Mr. Wolf will share his story of surviving the Holocaust, as well as discuss the historical roots of European anti-Semitism and his continued activism to prevent genocide in the present day.
